The NACF are Catholic families who try to give one another mutual moral, spiritual and social support in a culture, which is often hostile with our value as Christians. This we do by linking committed Catholic families locally, nationally and internationally with the simple intention of mutual support. Our work is based on the Catechism of the Catholic Church, the Holy See's 'Charter for the Rights of the Family', as well as 'Familiaris Consortio' and 'Humanae Vitae'. The NACF families meet together in Albury, Picton, (NSW), Benalla (N-E Vic), Melbourne, Bunyip (Vic) and Sydney.
